
International Admissions

Ai has a network throughout Asia that allows for collaboration with highly effective schools and provincial education departments in China. We are able to support American schools and districts that seek responsible, motivated international students that bring cultural appreciation and diversity to a learning community.

Supporting Success with Sustainable Enrollment

Ai embraces a collaborative approach with clients to ensure that the recruitment, application, review, and admissions process for international students is selective in screening applicants. This supports the cycle of success for the hosting school, guest student, sending family, and Chinese institution.

How Do We Do It?

Ai supports schools and their staff systemically to prepare their organization and their community for enrollment of international students. This requires Ai to understand a client's community in order to best support training, selection criteria, travel planning, international expectations, deadlines, the process of admissions, and visa requirements. Ai prepares schools to build upon their cultural competency to best support new students in the classroom and awareness of transitions and cultural misunderstandings that can impact a student's experience in a new environment.

Sister School Partners

International Collaboration in China

Cooperative relationships between schools require experience and understanding in: international relations; languages; educational frameworks; cultural expectations; societal influences; and most importantly - a reliable network of resources and connections around the world. Ai is well-versed in the development and management of sustainable projects that require knowledge of systems and governmental protocols, policies, and guiding transcultural discussions.

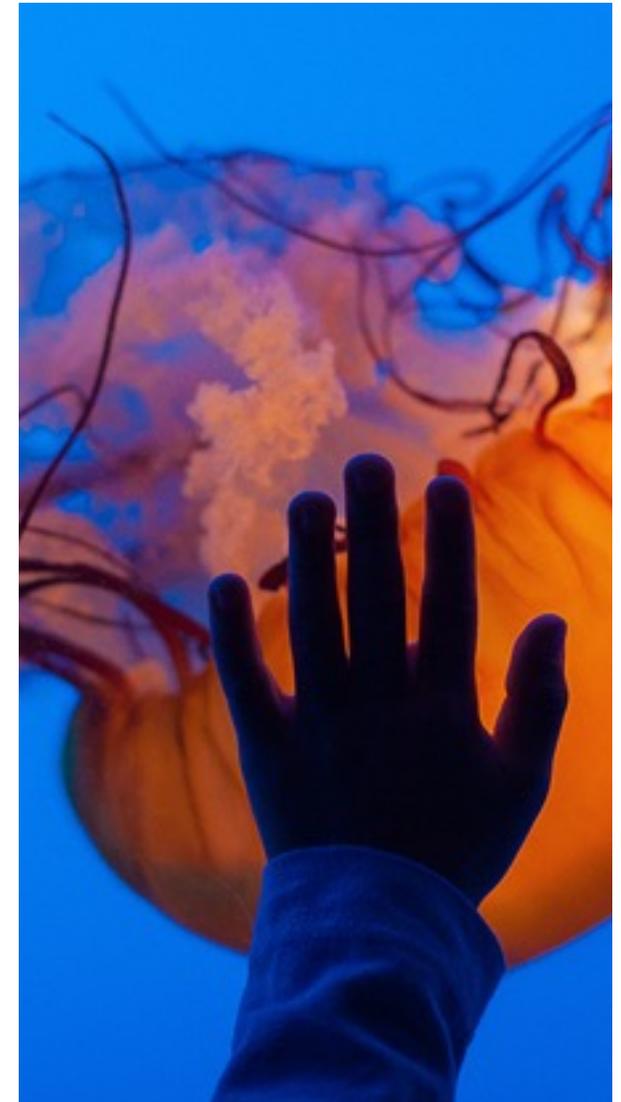

Educator and Student Exchange

Success and sustainability of international cooperation rely on the awareness and understanding of educators and the community. Ai provides cultural preparatory workshops for all stakeholders, cultural competency seminars, and training for educator teams to be effective collegial hosts and international leaders abroad.

ACES INTERNATIONAL

We believe that it is our shared responsibility to prepare our children for their world. We do this by bridging the world to American classrooms.

Pursuing Sabbatical

Educators require world-class education and experience. Ai provides sabbatical assignments within their network of model schools.

Field Study Abroad

Ai designs customized, comprehensive learning tours for educators and BOE members. We design experiences that build teacher capacity and efficacy.

Cultural Awareness

As students are required to develop global competencies, teachers must advance their own knowledge to support achievement and educational attainment.

Understanding the World through Disciplinary and Interdisciplinary Study

Ai facilitates safe and successful school tours based on sister school priorities.

Why?

Ai strives to understand what works best in other countries. We strategically provide this opportunity in high priority areas such as:

- Teacher Effectiveness and School Leadership
- Technology
- Career and Technical Education
- School Funding
- Equity
- Early Learning

Why?

Global competencies are being integrated into the core work of national professional standards in three areas:

- Implementation of internationally benchmarked, college-and career-ready standards
- The development of knowledge and understanding about the world through relevant and real-life experience
- The acquisition of foreign language skills and areas of cultural expertise
